Fawzeih H. Daher represents corporate clients in complex commercial and general business disputes. Specializing in appeals, Fawzeih regularly briefs and argues high-stakes disputes in the Michigan Court of Appeals, Michigan Supreme Court, and Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals. She has handled more than 70 appeals in Michigan's state and federal appellate courts. She has successfully represented clients in reversing adverse decisions, defending trial court wins, and securing stays and other strategic relief. Her practice encompasses contractual disputes, business torts, real property matters, shareholder disputes, construction claims, and general liability litigation.

Fawzeih works closely with trial counsel on strategic issues such as identifying and framing key issues on appeal, preserving the trial court record, and developing a compelling litigation strategy. She regularly submits amicus curiae briefs in Michigan's appellate courts on behalf of industry and professional organizations whose interests will be affected by cases involving significant legal and policy issues.

Fawzeih also maintains a strong trial litigation practice, including drafting pleadings, discovery, motion practice, and trial preparation. Her diverse litigation practice helps clients navigate their most difficult issues at each level of the court system.
