Fawn Brown is a seasoned litigation paralegal with nearly two decades of experience in the legal field. She brings sharp attention to detail and a thorough understanding of legal procedures, developed through her work in both private law firms and government entities.

Before joining Bodman, Fawn gained broad experience across diverse legal settings, handling matters ranging from civil litigation to criminal defense. Her versatility and depth of knowledge allow her to navigate complex legal challenges with confidence and precision.

Fawn specializes in e-discovery, Excel-based data tracking, and case management, combining advanced technical skills with strong legal acumen. She is highly proficient in legal research, drafting, and project management, and is known for her ability to work independently while collaborating effectively with legal teams.

Her expertise in e-discovery includes managing large volumes of electronically stored information (ESI) with precision and efficiency. With a strong analytical mindset, Fawn excels at identifying key patterns and extracting critical insights from complex datasets. Her ability to synthesize and interpret electronic evidence contributes directly to the development of effective case strategies and enhances overall litigation preparedness. Her technical proficiency allows her to streamline the discovery process, reduce turnaround times, and ensure accuracy in data handling.
