Mr. Rambus is a member of the High Net Worth Practice Group. He represents individual clients in connection with estate planning, the administration of complex trusts and estates, real estate transactions, business planning, and related wealth transfer, tax and succession planning matters.

He focuses on helping wealthy individuals, corporate executives, and business owners preserve their assets, grow their companies, and achieve their charitable goals. He also leads non-profit and philanthropic clients on matters distinct to their sector including evaluating and negotiating the terms of tax-credit investments for financial institutions.

Mr. Rambus counsels individual trustees on trust and estate administration matters and works closely with family offices in managing many aspects of his clients' personal and financial affairs to provide the highest quality of service.

Mr. Rambus belongs to the State Bar of Michigan's Taxation and Probate & Estate Planning Sections.
