Bodman PLC Achieves High Rating in Benchmark Litigation

DETROIT, MI, November 21, 2014 – Bodman PLC has again been named a “highly recommended” Michigan law firm for business litigation by the internationally-recognized peer and client review journal Benchmark Litigation 2015.

Firms listed as “highly recommended” received the most favorable evaluations by peers and clients during Benchmark’s extensive research process and are regarded as “dominant” in their jurisdiction and area of practice.

Benchmark also recognizes individual litigation attorneys as “Litigation Stars” or “Rising Stars.” Bodman listed as “Litigation Stars” include Thomas P. Bruetsch, Michelle T. Czapski, George G. Kemsley, Dennis J. Levasseur, Alan N. Harris, Jeffrey G. Raphelson, Joseph J. Shannon, Thomas J. Tallerico, and Thomas Van Dusen.

Bodman attorneys listed as “Rising States” are G. Christopher Bernard, Jason R. Gourley, Rebecca D. O’Reilly, and Gary D. Reeves. Bodman has more Michigan attorneys listed in Benchmark 2015 than any other law firm.

Benchmark is the only publication that focuses solely on litigation in the United States. Findings are the result of six-months of research with litigators, including input from their clients. In addition, attorney casework is reviewed and evaluations from other attorneys are used to determine ratings.

Bodman’s Litigation and Alternative Dispute Resolution Practice Group serves clients ranging from local entrepreneurs to Fortune 500 companies. Its attorneys appear before state and federal courts, and also non-judicial forums such as national and international arbitral panels. Client issues vary from civil disputes, simple breach of contract claims to antitrust, securities, professional liability, and other complex matters. The group’s expertise spans many industries including accounting, banking and financial services, automotive, insurance, healthcare, manufacturing, real estate and zoning, and construction, among others.
